

Recommendation Letters Guidelines

- Applicants to CERGE-EI study programs may need to provide contact information for up to three referees who will provide letter of recommendation on their behalf.
- For PhD applicants, two (or maximum three) letters of recommendation are required.
- For Master in Economic Research applicants, letters of recommendation are optional.
- The letters of recommendation should be provided by referees familiar with your academic background. Letters from others, such as community leaders, who cannot speak directly to your academic abilities, will not affect your chances of admission.

When required, the letters of recommendation should be received by us by the application deadline.

Please use the following form to submit the contact details of the referees who will provide a letter of recommendation on your behalf. We will request the letters by ourselves.
